

Contents

Page

Introduction 1

Part I: Customer Relationships That Create Value

- 1. Everybody Has Customers..... 7
- 2. What Is Value? 11
- 3. To Create Value We Must Become Salespeople 15

Part II: The Six Steps To Customer Learning

- 4. Introducing The Six Steps 19
- 5. Mental Models And Experience.....23
- 6. Why Are Experts Such Poor Teachers?27
- 7. Step One29
- 8. Step Two31
- 9. Step Three.....33
- 10. Step Four.....35
- 11. Step Five.....37
- 12. Step Six39

Part III: Communication - Chinese Whispers And Other Stories

- 13. Communication Is A Joke 41
- 14. The Joke Becomes A Nightmare - How Experts Make It Worse 45

Page

15. The Things We Do Whilst We Should Be Listening 49

16. The Seven Keys To Technical Communication.....55

Part IV: Building The Bridge

17. How Do Experts Become Good Teachers?... 61

18. Many Hands Make Life Easier - Social Learning, Action Learning And The Advisory Relationship 65

19. Running Technical Training Sessions - A Few Tips 69

20. Customer Complaints - A Great Learning Opportunity 73

21. Facilitative Selling - Allowing The Customer To Close The Sale 77

Appendix

Learning Styles 79

The Five Stages Of The Dreyfus Scale 82

References 85

Bibliography 86